To Whom It May Concern:

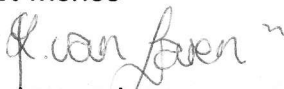

Re: "Masterpiece" presentation

Warwick came to speak to our year 12 and 13 Childcare students. From the very beginning, it was very obvious that Warrick was passionate about the subject matter. He very quickly engaged all the students with his friendly and enthusiastic manner.

The feedback I received from the students was that they really enjoyed the presentation, especially the real life stories he told. Many had no idea how amazing the whole process of conception to birth was and were astounded to learn how early a baby's heart starts beating. Students commented on how special he made them feel by stressing the uniqueness of every single person.

We were grateful for Warwick's presentation, for the basic facts he brought to the classroom, as well as the humour and enthusiasm with which he delivered it.

Best wishes
