Dear Warwick

The Making of a Masterpiece

Your letter of 21 August refers.

I apologise for the delay in replying to your above letter but as always the end of year approach has got in the way as we start to wind up to wind down.

Although it was a last minute invitation for you to speak to some of our youth, we were able to get together a couple of our Youth courses and our Caregivers Course to attend your presentation in August with myself being present also. I noted how the interest of the young adults increased when you showed the model of a child at a certain stage of life and how it could fit in the palm of your hand. It was great for the students to see and hear how unique each one of them are which is an identifying human factor and also how precious they are in their uniqueness.

Thank you for taking the time to speak to our students, it was very worthwhile and we are pleased that this was one of your highlights whilst in Gisborne.
